

Dear Candice + Todd -

25 Sep + 2007

I have gratefully known you both for over 15 years and have seen you in and through major phases of our adult life: college, marriage and career. I have personally prayed and wished to see you fulfill your dreams to enter the phase of parenthood. It has been difficult and frustrating to witness your struggles to start a family, but my pain undoubtedly pales in comparison to that which you have experienced.

Knowing how much you love your pets and the children in your life around you, I know you will be superb parents. I too know that the moment your child enters your life will be the grandest, most blessed miracle you will ever experience. I see that day coming for you and we will all celebrate with and around you. Get ready!!

With all the love and best wishes in my heart, xo - Carla
