

August 28, 2007

Dear Candice and Todd,

Scott and I believe that you both will be amazing and wonderful parents because you both have so much love to give. You give your heart and soul to everything that you do and we can only imagine (and look forward to witnessing) what love a child will have in your home.

Choosing adoption is a brave and unselfish decision for you both to make, and we applaud you for wanting to give a deserving child a home. We are confident that you will be fair, fun, supportive and encouraging parents.

Parenting is a tremendous responsibility, to which you are up for the challenge. You both will be positive role models for your child by providing unconditional love and support, solid morals, and a warm and loving family environment.

Parenting is a life long commitment that is rewarding yet often times demanding. It will be your challenge to help your child find a sense of adventure and self-confidence, to obtain a good education and the ability to use that education, and to learn to treat others as they would want to be treated. We are confident that you will guide your child and help them choose the right paths.

In closing, we would like to say that we hope you will share your child with us and our children. We can't wait to see what your love can do for a child. You deserve the best and that is what we pray for you.

With all our hearts,

Milli and Scott
Kennesaw, GA